VER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know that calomel is. It's mercury, quick-mer. Calomel is dangerous. It ashes into your bile like dynamite, amping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should ver be put into your system. When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and have you need a dose of dangerous lomel, just remember that your uggist sells for 50 cents a large ttle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which entirely vegetable and pleasant to ke and is a perfect substitute for lomel. It is guaranteed to start ur liver without stirring you up ide, and can not salivate. Don't take calomel! It makes you k the next day; it loses you a y's work. Dodson's Liver Tone ightens you right up and you feel at. Give it to the children be- use it is perfectly harmless and esn't gripe.

GREGORY WON NATIONAL NOTE BY INVESTIGATION OF CORPORATIONS

THOMAS W. GREGORY

Thomas Watt Gregory first became known to the American public in 1913 as a trust-prosecutor in Texas in the Waters-Pierce Oil Company case. He is and Hartford railroad investigation. Before that time he had achieved fame as a trust prosecutor in Texas in the Paters-Pierce Oil Company case. He is a native of Mississippi, fifty-four years old and has lived in Texas the greater part of his life, beginning his law practice in Austin in 1885, after graduation from the University of Texas law department. He was graduated also from the Southwestern Presbyterian university and took a special course at the University of Virginia. Mr. Gregory succeeded Attorney General James C. McInerney when the latter took the place of the late Justice Lurton.

DEAD SOLDIER HAS RELATIVES IN ARDMORE

John McCullom, a soldier in the Cameron Highlanders was killed in action at Loos recently. His cousin, Mrs. Russell Brown of this city, has many relatives in the trenches in Flanders. The following clipping from the Glasgow Daily News describes the fierce fighting in which this soldier lost his life:

In a remarkable passage in his speech in the house of commons yesterday, Mr. Churchill described the fate "of the premier division of Scotland."

In the battle of Loos, with other divisions, it played a very notable part, he said. Out of 9,600 with whom it went into that engagement 6,000 were killed or wounded.

Some battalions lost three-quarters of their strength, and nearly all succeeded in achieving the task which was set them. (Cheers). They gained some of the most important positions, and these were only lost at a later stage when they were handed over to other troops.

One battalion of this division—a battalion of Cameron Highlanders—went into action about 850 strong, with 30 officers. The colonel and an adjutant and 110 men survived, and took and held the objective which they were set to take. (Cheers)

The remnant of these troops, shattered in the first day's battle, were collected, and 1,200 out of the original 4,000 were asked two days afterwards to make another attack. They went over the parapet and renewed the attack with the utmost elan and spirit. Talk about the charge at Balaclava and the charge of the Fusiliers at Al-beura! Those events pale before these deeds which have been done in the present day by these new divisions raised in the British islands. (Cheers)

Needless to say no account of their achievements has been published other than a very jejune account, and that was many months afterwards. The friends of these heroes only know of their glory and of the heavy fighting in which they were engaged through private letters.

Four battalions of this primary division of Scotland have been disbanded and merged with other battalions, who are also short, and their places have been taken by a South African brigade.

Those battalions which had covered themselves with glory, which had only just been created with such immense effort and labour, are swept away and the officers and men scattered and dispersed to the winds whatever their interests and regimental ties were. Why break up seasoned battalions when there were millions at home available for drafts?"

REVIVE PILLORY FOR WIFE BEATERS IN K. C.

Kansas City, July 1.—The pillory slightly changed, but the same in effect, is to be resurrected from the old Puritan days and set up again in Kansas City, Kas. Wife-beaters will find themselves its victims. Judge J. H. Brady, police judge of that city, was granted permission by the city commissioners today to erect on a busy corner a post to which men convicted of beating their wives could be chained during the day under the watch of a traffic patrolman for any number of days the court decreed.

"The shame of being seen, labled as a wife-beater, will prevent such crimes, I believe," the judge explained. "But I am sorry we can't make it a whipping post."

The post was set up today.

South Ardmore Baptist.
A revival meeting of the old type will start at this church Sunday morning, July 2, conducted by the Rev. E. D. Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist church of Marietta, Okla., and the pastor in charge.

Everybody is invited to come and take part and every singer is most humbly asked to come and help sing. The good book said that there was a time for all things, and this is the time for you to come to church, and we will look for you and if you don't come we will be disappointed.

Come to the church with the wide-open doors. J. H. MCKENZIE, Pastor.

GOLF NOTES

WOMEN GOLFERS HAVE INNING.

Golf Competition for Women to be Played Tuesday.

Announcement has been made that a women's golf tournament will be held at Dornick Hills Country Club next Tuesday, July fourth. Play will start at four o'clock, and a prize will be awarded the winner of low score.

All Ardmore ladies who play golf are urged to hand in their names to Mr. Hume or Mr. Millar, who will enter them in the competition. The officers and members of Dornick Hills are always glad to see women on the links, and this being the first tournament staged here for members of that sex, it should prove an interesting addition to the program. Already several ladies have announced their intention of entering.

Looking Forward to Tuesday.

Golfers are looking forward to the holiday Tuesday with pleasant anticipation, and are practicing faithfully for the competition. There will no doubt be a mob of 'em out to watch their "skill against the other fellows' luck."

The fireworks display in the evening should be worth seeing, too.

Be there!

Taft on Chautauqua Stage.

New York, June 29.—Former President William H. Taft has added his name to the already long list of public men who have gone the way of the Chautauqua stage. He will be heard in lectures on "timely topics" this summer at the tent colonies. Bay Shore, L. I., boasts of being the first beneficiary of the Community Chautauqua plan under which Mr. Taft will appear. He arrived in this city today and will lecture at Bay Shore tomorrow.

Here from Kansas.

Rev. R. F. McBroom, accompanied by his family, arrived here yesterday afternoon to spend ten days with his brother-in-law, Walter Meadows, and family. Rev. McBroom formerly lived in this country and now owns farm lands in Cooke county, Texas. He left here in 1911 for northwest Kansas. He reports that crop prospects are very good out there or were when he left home. He came here direct from Gainesville, where he has been on business.

Coincidence of Consequence?

Women have voted in New Zealand for twenty years. The lowest death rate for babies in the world is in New Zealand.

Women also vote in Norway, Australia, Sweden, Denmark and Finland. The next lowest death rates for babies in the world are in these countries.—The Independent.

Well Fixed.

"I see Smith is building a garage. When did he get a car?"
"He hasn't got one yet, but he's got an option on ten gallons of gasoline."—New York World.

The Black Watch.

"The Black Watch are fighting so well in France that even the Germans praise them. Wonderful fighters, the Irish!"
The speaker was W. Bourke Cochran. He concluded:
"When I think of the valor of the Black Watch regiment I recall the story of Pat McCann."

"Pat came home one night with a black eye, a broken nose and a split lip; a front tooth was gone as well."
"Tim Sullivan done it," he told his wife, as he began to bathe the wounds in a basin of water.

"Shame on ye," Bridget cried. "A big feller like you to be loked by a little hard-drinkin' cockroach like Tim Sullivan! Why, he—"

"Whist!" said Pat from his basin softly. "Don't spake evil of the dead!"

A Proviso.

Wehn 6-year-old Tommy had returned to his home in Walbrook after a visit to the circus, with all its dazzling wonders, and had met for the first time all the fierce animals which had hitherto been confined between the pages of his animals A B C, he was tired as only a youngster of 6 can be.

Undressed and droopy-headed, Tommy was ready to be tumbled into bed when his mother said:

"You haven't said your prayers, Tommy."

"Can't, muvver," said Tommy.

"But you must," she insisted.

"All right," he answered wearily, and went through his simple prayer, ending with this:

"And bless the circus, and the clowns, and the animals—bless 'em, Lord, but don't let 'em get away. Amen."—Baltimore Sun.
